I DO

Everything you want to know to help you plan your wedding can be found in I DO. There's practical advice starting from the planning stages to where to go for your honeymoon and informative interviews with designers, wedding planners, florists and hairstylists.

Our regular writers also provide you with their entertaining viewpoints about everything from being a best man to things people get up to during their hen night. We try to feature every possible aspect of what the bride and groom need to know to make their wedding a perfect one, from what the mothers-in-law should wear to how to choose your flower girl.

We bring you photos of beautiful traditional Maltese weddings as well as snapshots and stories from couples who have decided to tie the knot in a completely original way. It can all be found in this high quality wedding magazine which comes out five times a year.

I DO is distributed FREE to all couples attending courses organised by the Cana Movement
